The experiments were successful in producing rubber from solidago leavenworthii, a species of golden rod, but last winter the inventor announced he had discovered in Central Florida a new variety golden rod, growing 12 feet tall, which produced more rubber.

The laboratory was a maze of test tubes and retorts. A small still was rigged up which was used to refine the material. Edison was said to have been working on plans for a larger commercial model for which whole fields of golden rod would be grown.

The annual trip back to West Orange did not stop the rubber exparaphernalia and the voluminous notes were taken North. At inter-

Man." Ford Says.

Deeply moved by the death of Thomas A. Edison, for nearly 40 by the recollection that he made energy, The Times says he had years his close friend, Henry Ford paid tribute to the inventor as one who "changed the face of the world in his lifetime," and whose work "will influence all the future."

"Great as an inventor, he was greater as a man," he said. "Mr. Edison believed that the essential individual life survived the change called death. We often spoke of it

"He has just gone. I believe, to get new facilities to continue his work. But the sense of personal loss is very heavy. There was only one Edison."

Edison's fame, Ford said, "is independent of the fluctuating judgments of history; it is etched in light and sound on the daily and hourly life of the world.
"He was the chief hero of my boyhood and he became my friend in manhood. That experience must be rare—to have one's early hero for one's later friend."

Ford told how Edison had given him the first encouragement he had received during his early efforts to develop a gasoline propelled vehicle and added:
"He knew the secret of work.

His persistence amounted to genius. However much he originally owed to inspiration for his ideas, he developed them through tireless experiment and downright hard work.
"His guiding principle was to make life better for human beings. His honesty was rugged; he had great courage and a lively sense of humor, but so rounded was his character that no trait stood out above the rest. "Mr. Edison was a deeply religious man in the highest sense of that word. He knew so much of the marvel and mystery of the universe that he reverenced it and the purpose behind it. He did some work for which the world is not yet ready. In foresight and insight he was a prophet.

"Latterly he turned his mind to economic questions because he believed the present system hindered the best in man.

"Faith with him was a real evidence of things not seen. Mr. Edison himself did not grow old. He was like a young driver in a worn-out car. "There was only one Edison."

Capitalist, Also Known for His Philanthropies, Succumbs at 80 to Heart Attack at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 19 .- Samiel Mather, ploneer in the vast emoire of Great Lakes shipping, minng and steel manufacture, died at his home here Saturday night. He was 80 years old.

Mr. Mather suffered a heart at tack shortly after midnight. He had been ill for the past two weeks, but had been reported improved fol-lowing three recent heart attacks. He was never considered out of danger, however, because of his adards, Mather & Co., and was connected with the great steel concerns of the United States. He was identified with more than 25 corporations as an officer or director. These included the United States Steel Corporation, American Ship-building Co., Union Commerce National Bank, New York Central Railroad, Lackawanna Steel Co., Interlake Iron Corporation, Union Trust Co. of Cleveland; Bankers Trust Co. of New York; Interstate Steamship Co., operators of the second largest fleet on the Great Lakes; Verona Mining Co., Huron Barge Co., Hemlock River Mining Co., Hobart Iron Co., Corsica Iron Co., and the Cleveland Trust Co.

Figured in Merger Fight. In the prolonged fight over the proposed merger of Bethlehem Steel Corporation by the Youngs-town Sheet and Tube Co., Mather, holder of 60,000 shares of Sheet and Tube stock, took sides against his fellow townsman, Cyrus S. Eaton, and won out when the merwas called off last week. Mather's brother, W. G. Mather, was was no quarrel between the broth

The full extent of his wealth probably never will be known, alhough he was considered one of he wealthiest men in Ohio. His philanthropies during his lifetime were so great and many that final disposition of his estate can hardly reflect the accumulations of his

Mather's gifts to Western Retaled more than $4,000,000, and he gave outright $1,000,000 to Lakeside Hospital here. Most of his sons as he greatly disliked pub-licity, but his gifts exceeded $7,

Among his many connections was the Carnegie Peace Foundation, of which he was a trustee, and the American Red Cross, of which he was a member of the Central Committee. In 1918 he was made di rector of the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment, alhough his late partner, Henry S. Pickands, took an opposite view and was president of the Dry Maintenance League.

Mather leaves two sons, S. Livingston and Philip R. Mather; one daughter, Mrs. R. H. Bishop Jr.; a sister, Miss Katherine Mather, d a brother, William G. Mathe S. Livingston Mather is traveling at the present time in Europe. Other members of the family are in Cleveland.

PANGBORN, HERNDON FINISH ROUND-THE-WORLD FLIGHT

Land at Floyd Bennett Field Whence They Started 83 Days Ago.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon Jr., first airplane pilots to make a nonstop flight from Japan to the United States, completed the last stage of their round-the-world journey yesterday.

While thousands cheered, their big red monoplane flew out of the West and landed on the same run-way at Floyd Bennett Field, from which it had started, with its nose pointed eastward, 83 days ago. As the flight ended, with a short hop from Newcastle, Del., two women broke through police lines and ran toward the monoplane. One was Mrs. Mary Ella Herndon, a bride of less than a week when e flight started. The other was Mrs. Dixon Boardman, mother of Herndon. He had seen neither of them since July 28, when he stepped into the ship and started n the air adventure.

Maj. William F. Deegan, mem-ber of Mayor Walker's Reception mmittee, and Gen. George A. Winrate of Brooklyn headed the official welcoming group.

Thomas Alva Edison

The Light of His Genius Will Live Forever

While the world mourns his passing, it will cherish him in fond memory and benefit by his great work for all time.

Rising to exalted heights of honor and esteem, Mr. Edison has been called "the world's most useful man." We wonder if there was ever another who contributed more to economic. social and industrial welfare. In the far corners of the earth, wherever civilization has penetrated, every man, woman and child has benefited by his genius. We reverently bow our heads with the rest of the world . . . we realize the great loss that has been sustained, and we know that Thomas Alva Edison, the man, and Thomas Alva Edison, the inventor, will be an inspiration to youth through the ages.

> Tracing our existence to him, we feel his loss keenly.

President Is Confident Each Community Will Support Estimates of Relief Organization.

FORTRESS MONROE, Va., Oct. 9 .- President Hoover asked the nation last night to contribute to local funds for the jobless, urging that every American adopt a policy of becoming his brother's keeper. Landing here en route to Yorktown, he broadcast his doctrine of ommunity rather than Federal aid from the home of the Commandant of this old fortress, opening a national drive from Oct. 19 to Nov. 25 in which his Relief Committee will aid in the gathering of funds.

Needs Carefully Estimated. "This task is not beyond the ability of these thousands of community organizations to solve. Each local organization from its experi-ence last winter and summer has formulated careful plans and made estimates completely to meet the need of that community. I am confident that the generosity of each community will fully support these estimates. The sum of these budgets will meet the needs of the naion as a whole. "To solve this problem in this way accords with the fundamental sen of responsibility, neighbor to neighor, community to community, up-"The possibile misery of helpless people gives me more concern than any other trouble this depression has brought us. It is with these convictions in mind that I have the responsibility of opening this na-tion-wide appeal to citizens of each mmunity that they provide the inds with which, community by ommunity, this task shall be met.

"The maintenance of a spirit of nutual self-help through voluntary riving, through the responsibility of local government, is of infinite importance to the future of America. Everyone who from a sympa-thetic heart gives to these services is giving hope and courage to some eserving family. Everyone who aids in this service will have lighted a beacon of help on the stormy oast of human adversity. Appeal to "American Spirit."

The success and the character of ations are to be judged by the ideals and the spirit of its people. rime and again the American people have demonstrated a spiritual quality, a capacity for unity of action, of generosity, a certainty of results in time of emergency that have made them great in the an-nals of the history of all nations. This is the time and this is the occasion when we must arouse that dealism, that spirit, that determination, that unity of action, from which there can be no failure in this primary obligation of every man to his neighbor and of a nation to its citizens, that none who deserve shall suffer.

"I would that I possessed the art of words to fix the real issue with which the troubled world is faced into the mind and heart of every American man and woman. Our country and the world are today involved in more than a financial crisis. We are faced with the primary question of human relations, which reaches to the very depth of organized society and to the very depth of human conscience.

"This civilization and this great life, is builded and can alone survive upon the translation into individual action of that fundamental philosophy announced by the Savior 19 centuries ago. Part of our national suffering today is from failure to observe these primary yet inexorable laws of human relationship. Modern society cannot survive with the defense of Cain, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Charity a Responsibility.

"No governmental action, no economic doctrine, no economic plan or project can replace that God-imposed responsibility of the individual man and woman to their neighbors. That is a vital part of the very soul of the people. If we shall gain in this spirit from this painful time, we shall have created a greater and more glorious America. The trial of it is here now. It is a trial of the heart and conscience, of individual men and "In a little over a month we shall celebrate our time-honored festival of Thanksgiving. I appeal to the American people to make Nov. 26. next, the outstanding Thanksgiving day in the history of the United States; that we may say on that day that America has again demonstrated her ideals; that we have each of us contributed our full part; that we in each of our communities have given full assurance against hunger and cold among our people; that upon this Thanksgiv-ing day we have removed the fear of the forthcoming winter from the hearts of all who are suffering and er's keeper.

"I am on my way to participate in the commemoration of the vic-tory of Yorktown. It is a name which brings a glow of pride to every American. It recalls the final victory of our people after years of sacrifice and privation. This na-tion passed through Valley Forge and came to Yorktown."

It is mild and gentle enough to relieve a young infant's colic pains, yet is an effective regulator for children of school age. Look to this cause-Does your baby have nights when he fusses, tosses and seems unable to go quickly, quietly to sleep? Look for one common cause, doctors say. A constipated condition.

To get rid quickly of accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, nothing is better than genuine time-proven Castoria.

Castoria, you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics of any kind.

When your baby is upset and unable to sleep, or has a little cold or fever, it is a wise precaution to give him the gentle but sure regulative help of Castoria. With regulation come relaxed comfort and restful sleep.

Keep a bottle always on hand. Children like the taste of real Castoria—which always has the name, Chas. H. Fletcher, on the package.

For these purposes, here is a homemade medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Piner. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it. This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germladen phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for incipient bronchial coughs and other severe coughs due to colds.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded. For these purposes, here is a home-

Pepsodent announces a notable new discovery

An entirely new cleansing and polishing material has been developed by Pepsodent Laboratories. It is twice as soft as polishing materials in common use. Teeth are given higher polish, brighter luster-FILM stains disappear completely

THE Pepsodent Laboratories announce a new discovery. A revolutionary discovery contained in Persodent Toothpaste for more than six months.

Your dentist will tell you Pepsodent's policy has always been to improve constantly - no "fixed formula" to hamper progress. Research laboratories have a habit, in this modern age, of quickly obsoleting prior ideas. As new dental advances have come, Pepsodent has been the first to meet them.

Now once more Pepsodent advances. This time through a notable new discovery that possesses three exclusive virtues:

- 1. The new cleansing and polishing material in Persodent stands unequalled in removing stained, destructive FILM.
- 2. The new texture is invisibly fine. As a result it imparts a higher polish to enamel-a brilliant glaze

3. The new material is safe-this is most important of all. Safe because it's soft-yes, twice as soft-as polishing materials in common use.

Having made this new discovery we faced an equally great problem. How to combine it in our present formula without altering appearance or sacrificing the famous flavor that has made Pepsodent so long preferred by millions. We mastered this. In taste and in looks it is still the Pepsodent you have always known. In results and safety it is new-brand new.

Keeps teeth cleaner—safely

Pepsodent's new cleansing and polishing material brings a change in teeth's appearance within a few days' time. Newly discovered, it is different, totally different, from any now in use.

These facts are interesting: this discovery followed 7 years of research . . . 3 tons of raw materials were used in laboratory tests . . . we held a competition from among the ablest minds in chemistry . . . new equipment had to be invented, then erected . . . the process is a carefully guarded secret.

The idea was simple: to combine super film-removing power with super safety and yet retain the original appearance and taste of Pepsodent. A paradox! A seemingly hopeless task that has been the goal of every toothpaste manufacturer for the last decade. Pepsodent has solved it!

Pepsodent-special FILM-removing toothpaste

Removing FILM is, and always will be, Pepsodent's chief duty. Today's Pepsodent performs that duty better than any toothpaste ever has before.

FILM is that slippery coating on your teeth. It gathen germs that cause decay. It glues them tightly to enamel. FILM absorbs the stains from food and smoking and makes teeth unattractive. Removing FILM is important for beauty and for health.

Get a tube of Pepsodent today. Note how smooth and creamy. It is safe . . . utterly safe . . . on the softes baby teeth and the most delicate enamel. Pepsodent today's outstanding scientific toothpaste.

VITAL to sound even teeth, straight strong bones, and HAPPIER HEALTH

NEVER before offered in sufficient quantity by any table-food—this scarcest of the health-guarding elements, vitamin-D, can now be had at everybody's table—in Bond Bread.

All the other vitamins are plentiful in almost any well-balanced meal.

But until now, enough sunshine vitamin-D could be obtained only from direct sunshine, from sun-lamps and from medicines.

EVERYBODY-ESPECIALLY CHILDREN

Everyone is better off with a steady and ample supply of sunshine vitamin-D every day. This is particularly true of children—to maintain health, promote proper growth, to strengthen resistance to colds and illness, and to build strong bones and sound even teeth.

So a new way had to be found to bring the extra vitamin-D we all need.

NOW-IN YOUR DAILY BOND BREAD

Now science has found the way to put this scarcest of vital health-building food elements into bread. And your own delicious, favorite Bond Bread has been chosen exclusively to offer this priceless improvement.

Just one to two slices each meal will give you all the extra sunshine vitamin-Dyou need.

SAME DELICIOUS FLAVOR

Your grocer has vitamin-D Bond Bread—the same delicious flavor, the same firm, home-like texture that "Flavor-Peak" Rising insures—the bread that more than a million housewives buy every day. And even with this priceless improvement, it costs you no more than you formerly paid.

OFFICIALLY APPROVED BY HIGHEST AUTHORITIES

EVERY claim made in this advertisement has been specifically checked and approved by recognized scientific authority.

Bond Bread, analyzed and tested as to its sunshine vitamin-D content, has been granted the official seals of acceptance and approval of the following:

GENERAL ELECTRIC DENIED REHEARING OF TUBE SUIT

Supreme Court Had Held Langmuir Patent Invalid for Want of Invention.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The General Electric Co. was today refused a rehearing by the Supreme Court on the case brought by the De Forest Radio Co., which resulted in the court holding invalid the Langmuir patent on high vacuum tubes used in radio and other wireless communication.

The court, in a decision by Justice Stone last May, held the tube patent invalid for want of invention. Stone said its component parts were well known and had been used to produce similar re-sults to that obtained by the Langmuir tube before a patent on the latter was issued.

In seeking to reopen the case, the General Electric Co. said the court's finding of facts were er-roneous and that the patent marked a new scientific step.

"To invalidate the Langmuir patent on suggestions and surmises of prior art," General Electric said, "is radically to modify the principles of law many times announced

GRAND JURY IN MADISON COUNTY

Judge Bernreuter Removes Them in Inquiry Which He Inaugurates After Men Are in Box.

Two prospective members of the Madison County grand jury were rejected for service today at Ed-wardsville by Circuit Judge Bern-reuter after he had announced he would make an inquiry to deter-mine whether the members of the panel were qualified to investigate gambling conditions in the county.

The Court made the announcement this morning after the 23 Madison County residents sum-moned for service had taken their places in the jury box. The panel was then excused until the afternoon session. At that time the Court announced that four members would be excused and ordered Fitzgerald to summon four more, o be ready for service in the Afterwards Judge Bernreuter told a Post-Dispatch reporter that two of the panel had been excused at their own request for legal reasons. These were Roy S. Murray of Saline and William H. Martin of Collinsville. The other two, re-jected without comment, were Al-vin Kraft of Lees, proprietor of a summer resort, and Herman Lampe of Marine, a plasterer, according to Judge Bernreuter.

The Court's unusual action follows an investigation of gambling conditions in the county by a special grand jury which culminated on Oct. 7 in the indictment of State's Attorney Bohm, former Sheriff George E. Little and three officials of the Madison Kennel Club dog track, on a variety of charges in connection with opera-tion of the gambling establishment.

Conference on Procedure.
This morning special prosecutors and defense counsel in the dog track cases held a conference at which they agreed upon seven Central Illinois Circuit Judges acceptable to both sides as trial judges when the indictments are brought before a jury.

The names of the judges were submitted to Judge Bernreuter who indicated he would invite one of them to hear the cases. This ob-viates the necessity of argument over a motion for a change of venue. Judge Bernreuter set Oct. 294 as the date on which all mo-tions should have been filed in the case and announced that the guest Judge would hear them on Nov. 2 or Nov. 9 if the former date should prove inconvenient.

It was also announced at Ed-wardsville that an Advisory Committee had been formed to assist in prosecution of the dog track cases. Its members are W. C. Champion, banker and former Postmaster of Granite City; Thomas Williamson of Edwardsville, former United States Attorney, and Walter J. Chapman of Alton, former State's Attorney of Jersey County. Their activities will be confined to furnishing advice on the handling of the cases.

First Instructions Ignored.

Prior to the special grand jury investigation a regular grand jury had ignored instructions of Judge conditions in the county. Later, on Aug. 29, Judge Jesse Brown of Alton, an associate of Judge Bern-reuter on the circuit bench, issued an injunction restraining officials of the county from interfering with operation of the dog track.

This precipitated a spectacular fight with Judge Brown on the one side and Judges Miller and Bernreuter on the other, the former allowing his order to stand, and the latter two bending every effort to close the track. Their first move was issuance of an order to close the track.

C. C. Ellison, Alton attorney was appointed a special prosecutor in the case after Sheriff Fitzgerald had declined to serve the second order. After Ellison had failed to close the track in several per-sonally conducted raids, Gov. Em-merson sent State highway policemen to help serve the order. At this juncture Judge Brown dissolved his restraining order and the track was closed.

Legality of Jury Attacked. It was learned today that dograck lawyers plan to ask that the special grand jury's indictments be quashed on the ground the grand jury, drawn by order of Judges Bernreuter and Miller, was illegally impaneled. In such a case, it is understood the special prosecutor would have to ask the regular grand jury, impaneled by the Board of Supervisors, to reindict the same

The October grand jury panel was in court this morning when it was convened. The members took their places in the box as their names were called, and the next step in the normal course of events would have been administration of the oath. At this juncture, however. Judge Bernreuter in errupted the proceedings and said: "Gentlemen, at the last term of court I thought I had a grand jury.

I gave it earnest instructions about gambling conditions in Madison County. They were ignored. I talked my head off but in spite of my instructions no investigation was made and not a single indictment affecting gambling was returned." I am going to delay the organ zation of this grand jury until the

EX-PROSECUTOR CLARK ACQUITTED IN KILLING

Confessed Slayer of Two at Los Angeles Is Cleared on Self-Defense Plea.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 19.-David H. Clark, former Deputy District Attorney of Los Angeles, was acquitted at 11 a. m. yester-day at his second trial for the killing of Herbert Spencer, magazine editor. The jury was out 23 hours, 40 minutes. Clark, who testified at both trials that on last May 20, while he was a candidate for the municipal bench, he shot and killed Spencer and Charles Crawford, wealthy politician, in self-defense wealthy politician, in self-defense at the height of a political quarrel, received the verdict without a change of expression. His young wife, Nancy, who attended nearly every session of the trials, rushed into his arms.

The jurors said they voted 11 to one for acquittal in three ballots Saturday, one of the jurors holding out for second degree murder. Resuming deliberations at 9:30 yesterday they took one deciding ballot and asked the bailiff to sum mon Judge H. W. Falk.

Clark has never been formally accused of the Crawford killing, the prosecution announcing before the first trial that it wished to hold possible charge in reserve until the nature of the defense was

Municipal politics, Crawford's religious affiliations and the under world figured largely in the two trials. Clark, who received 60,000 votes for Municipal Judge while he was in jall awaiting release under $100,000 bond, alleged Spencer and Crawford offered political support in exchange for aid in placing Chief of Police Roy Steckel in a might have belonged to Spencer and Crawford was never explained. The defense insisted they were smuggled from the scene by Crawford's attendants.

The State sought to prove that Crawford had abandoned his "nru-nicipal political dictaotorship and had joined a church, determined to "clean up Los Angeles," and that he was being assisted in his crucade by Spencer's magazine. Much stress was placed by the State on the claim that Clark, while professing to be a reform candidate for the city judiciary, was in reality affiliated with the underworld.

Debits and Credits in the Depression

Vast volume of installment and other buying on time stimulates business for a while; but when credit runs short, consumer must save to pay his debts and cannot buy more goods; this causes trade stagnation and unemployment; meeting bills from lower earnings aggravates the burden; regulation of credit and spending is urged.

George E. Putnam, Industrial Economist, in the Atlantic Monthly.

W HATEVER the fundamental causes of . difference between periods of prosperity and periods of depression lies in the amount of consumer spending and in the volume of industrial production. These factors are intimately related. When times are prosperous, it will be found that both spending and production are at a high level and when husiness is depressed, both spending and production are constricted. The close relationship between these factors is due to the controlling position in which the consumer standshe is the final arbiter as to the kinds and quantities of goods that shall be produced. Another point to be noted is the important part played by credit in these spending and production cycles. When consumers are once in the mood to spend, an abundant supply of credit facilitates their spending because it enables them to borrow and buy. Consumer spending, in turn, stimulates producers to borrow money and to expand their operations. The extensive use which consumers and producers make of credit for these purposes eventually leads to a situation where the credit structure, like an inverted pyramid, becomes dangerously topheavy. In the process of getting the volume of credit readjusted to its gold base, it is found that those who have borrowed to buy must save in order to pay. The excesses which have been generated during "prosperity" by the misuse of credit must be corrected by depression before normal business can be resumed.

Prosperous business, once started in a few important lines, gains momentum as the effects reach out from one class of producers to another, and as producers and laborers expand their buying power with the aid of borrowed money. This process may continue for a long time if the credit supply is abundant. Sooner or later, however, credit begins to run short.

As more and more credit is used up, signs of shortage are evidenced by a substantial rise in interest rates. Bankers, scenting danger, investigate more carefully the credit status of their debtors. Many borrowers are unable to renew their loans on favorable terms, and are forced to sell something for cash to pay off maturing obligations. Then the trouble begins-for the weak borrower and for others as well.

Credit shortage is the spark that usually ushers in periods of liquidation, falling prices and depressed business. The disease itself, however, is variously diagnosed. Sometimes it is referred to as overproduction. It could as easily be diagnosed as under-consumption. The point is that when credit shortage has forced weak borrowers to curtail their operations, to reduce their working forces and to convert goods into cash for paying off loans, there is less purchasing power available for consumption purposes-and all the time more and more goods are being offered for sale. A condition of this kind quickly reaches out from the weak borrowers to the strong borrowers until the latter are also forced to curtail their operations because of the restricted outlet for their products. Then follows a period of industrial stagnation, unemployment, low purchasing power and forced saving. Once started, depression, like prosperity, gains momentum until practically all industry is affected. The low spending power which characterizes periods of depression is due only in part to unemployment; it is due as much to debt-paying difficulties. For example, during the period leading up to the present depression, it was common practice for the consumer, the workingman, the white collar employe and others of greater means to increase their spending power by going into debt-by mortgaging their future earnings. They bought radios, motor cars, washing machines, furniture, and an forth, on the installment plan. In recent months, these same individuals have been confronted with the task of maintaining their installment payments out of restricted incomes. They have had less money to spend on new purchases, because a large part of their incomes was bespoken by creditors' claims.

Their debt-paying burden has been aggravated by the fact that debts contracted when incomes and prices were high must be liquidated during a period when prices and incomes are on a substantially lower evel. Little wonder that the business of the manufacturer, merchant and wage earner has been depressed when so many con-sumers have been forced to save in order to take care of excessive debt burdens.

Is there not something that society could do to prevent the recurrence of disorders of this kind? The search for fundamental causes has not been entirely successful Granting, however, that fundamental causes may yet be found in some combination of human nature, mass psychology and the modern credit system, are there not in mediate causes that could be dealt with? Suppose, for example, that spending could kept within reasonable bounds when times were prosperous, would there not be less need for periodic depressions, widespread unemployment and forced saving? The smoothing out of the spending process so that it will be free from the disorders which breed depression is without question the outstanding need of the times. It is the problem which confronts capitalism today. What is to be done about it?

USING THE SURPLUS.

From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican ONCE upon a time, when the engineers charged with building a lighthouse on the British coast were at their wits' ends to provide a stable foundation in shifting sand, wrecked ship came ashore, covering the beach with vast quantities of baled cotton. they seized the opportunity and the light-house built on a cotton foundation stood for a century or so. Surely it should be possible to turn to account even a bumper crop of a stuff capable of such undreamed-of uses. If the weavers, spinners and dressmakers cannot take care of the surplus, perhaps engineers of one kind or another might. There have been roads on Cape Cod that rested on nothing more substantial than old fish nets. Almost any use except the manufacture of gunpowder is preferable to the waste of deliberate destruction.

ELEVENS PLAY INTERSECTIONAL TO GAMES MILLERS EASTERN

NOTRE DAME AND PITTSBURG MEET AS FEATURE OF WEEK-END CARD

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 .- The East will be the heaviest contributer this week to the most comprehensive intersectional slate of the football season.

Nine major Eastern elevens are booked for contests against teams from other sections—Pittsburg, Harvard, Carnegie Tech, George-Pennsylvania, Temple and Boston

Pitt's Panthers, apparently jus about as strong an array as the Atlantic Seaboard boasts, must tackle Notre Dame in the Ramblers' stronghold at South Bend. Pitt has won four straight games, including victories over two major opponents, Iowa and West Vir ginia, and boasts an uncrossed goal line; but the most optimistic Panther supporter scarcely anticipates a triumph over Notre Dame.

Harvard, fresh from its thrilling victory over Army, will stay at home to entertain the Texas Longhorns, 1930 champions of the Southwest Conference. Carnegie Tech and Penn must meet strong Big Ten foes, the Tartans battling Purdue's Boilermakers, while Penn is seeing what it can do about checking Wisconsin's crackling of-

Both these games will be played in the East, as will Fordham's duel with Drake of the Missouri Valley Conference and Boston College's tangle with Marquette. Rounding out the Eastern intersectional program will be a Friday night game volving Temple and the Haskell

Bald as grains. Closing prices were $1.20 to $1.50 a bale higher. The advence was ascribed to trade buying and short covering. The advance in wheat futures amounted to 1½c to 1½c a bushel, and reflected an upturn in the Winnipeg market, and reports of dry weather in the Southwest. Corn gained nearly as much, closing % to 1½c higher.

Foreign exchanges were mostly firm. After opening unchanged, Sterling rose to $3.91½, a gain of 3½ cents, and the highest in nearly a fortnight. Latin Americans.

Stering rose to $3.91%, a gain of 3% cents, and the highest in near-ly a fortnight. Latin Americans, however, turned heavy, the Brazilian milreis dropping several points on announcement of the moratorium on the debt. The Japanese Bullar Burn was film for a time but lest. most of its gain, along with the break in Japanese bonds.

nothing quite so effective!

There is one right way to get rid of a cold and its possible complications-take Bromo Quinine. The quinine purifies and fortifies the system while the gentle laxative eliminates the impurities.

When you take cold, doesn't it seem foolish to treat merely the discomforts when it is just as easy to drive the infection completely out of the system?

Bromo Quinine is standard treatment for colds * the world over. It outsells by millions any other cold remedy.

Insist on getting what you ask for.
